

Glastonbury Thorn

The tree stands in front of St. Albans School. Grown from cuttings from trees outside Glastonbury Abbey in England, it is reputed to bloom whenever royalty visits the close.

According to legend, the thorn originally was brought to England from the Holy Land by Joseph of Arimathea.